emergency medicine expertise, state-of-the-art diagnostics and treatments including laboratory and diagnostic imaging on site. You'll be home and tucked into bed in less time that it takes to drive another medical facility. The urgent care centers will be located next to the ambulatory surgery center.

Two medical office buildings with up to 200 physicians and their staffs

Primary care physicians can include family practice specialists, internists, obstetricians/gynecologists, and pediatricians. If your family's needs span more than one group, decide if you want just one doctor for all family members or separate doctors for different patients. Centers of Excellence are preferred places of care where specialty and subspecialty physicians work together, along with experienced clinical support staff and technology on the diseases most common to residents of our community. Centers of Excellence have a commitment to training and education, which includes working with students in health care related fields and allowing access to research and clinical studies.

A continuum of care for seniors

March HealthCare's continuing care program is designed to help protect against the rising costs of long-term care. When you qualify, you'll know that quality assisted living, memory support care and skilled nursing care are available on site.

March HealthCare will offer access to independent living, assisted living, skilled nursing facilities, Alzheimer's and hospice care. We add Alzheimer's to this list because it has its own continuum of care. In the early stages of Alzheimer's, a person may need to be placed in an Assisted Living program to help them with meals, transportation and supervision. There are now homes designed specifically to provide assisted care only for those in the early stages of Alzheimer's. As the disease progresses, however, full-time skilled care becomes necessary. This is being provided by many Skilled Care Facilities and, today, nursing facilities devoted solely to Alzheimer's care are being developed.

Hospital: The first phase is a 100-bed hospital that will provide emergency care, intensive care, and a full range of inpatient and outpatient services. It is being designed so it can expand up to 500 beds.
